

Ebury to meet insurance industry at BIBA 2022

Ebury, the Santander-backed fintech and global provider of mass payment and FX risk management solutions, is delighted to announce that it is exhibiting at BIBA 2022. Those attending the event will be able to meet Ebury's experts in international payments and cross-border risk management, as well as members of its award-winning Mass Payments team.

Ebury's decision to exhibit at the event hosted by British Insurance Brokers' Association (BIBA), the UK's leading general insurance organisation, reflects its ability to service insurers with a growing need to manage the operational and FX risks associated with making high volumes of time critical multi-currency global insurance claims and service provider invoice payments. As Ebury grows internationally and increases its capabilities, it is able to offer global insurance clients opportunities to manage mass payments, competitive FX solutions and risk management. Its services are boosted by dedicated relationship managers for all clients, no matter the scale of their business.

Ebury is the only dedicated FX solutions and global payments fintech exhibiting at BIBA in 2022.
